

Rouge – Official Opening

The stunning French-Cambodian designer Romyda Keth was at Rouge to celebrate with owner Kate Laves-Meier the official opening of this beautiful store in Block 16, Dempsey Road.

The clothes themselves are infinitely desirable – nothing is mass-produced: the silk is hand-woven, and each garment is individually hand-sewn. Romyda employs 60 skilled Cambodian seamstresses; “In Europe, people have forgotten how to sew by hand,” she says.
